Vancouver Island University’s motto, Discoveries in Education, was adopted in 1969 when the institution, known then as Malaspina College, was first inaugurated. Recalling Captain Alejandro Malaspina, who explored the Vancouver Island region in the 18th century, VIU’s Coat of Arms pays tribute to exploration, depicting a Spanish barque under full sail. The motto also provides a link with one of Captain Malaspina’s ships – the Descubierta – which means Discovery. The Coat of Arms is displayed proudly onstage during the graduation convocation ceremonies in which VIU acknowledges the achievements, successes, exploration and discovery of each graduating student.
Message from the Chancellor

It’s my honour to extend my congratulations to the graduates of June 2014.

You represent the very best of what we do at Vancouver Island University (VIU). I am proud of each and every one of you. And welcome to all the family and friends who have supported our new graduates’ success.

To the graduates – your hard work, perseverance and dedication have allowed you to reach your goal and you should be proud of this accomplishment. On this fulfilling educational journey, I am sure many of you have benefitted from the support of family and friends. Be grateful and remember how much their support helped you along the way. Hopefully, you can pay it forward in the future by giving the same kind of support to someone else.

Education is the foundation that brings about personal development and growth. It is the key to fostering healthy economies and community prosperity. I encourage you to step out into the world with your arms and hearts wide open. Make the most of the knowledge and skills you have gained at VIU and use it to make the world a better place.

We will watch with great interest as you launch into your careers or pursue further education. We hope you accept your role as VIU alumni and ambassadors with great pride, knowing that you have obtained your degree, diploma or certificate at an institution with a long-standing commitment to excellence in teaching and research.

VIU is focused on the success of students, alumni and our communities and your future success matters to us.

It is this strong sense of purpose that will continue to guide our decision-making and shape the direction of this institution. To all those who continue to support our efforts, thank you. We strongly value our relationships with VIU’s partners in education, community leaders, alumni, donors and colleagues around the world.

I would like to congratulate Dr. Ralph Nilson and Board Chair Ann Scott for their vision and leadership. Together with the passionate team of professionals working at VIU, our University is undertaking significant work in research, program development, economic and social development, Aboriginal engagement and cultural enrichment. I believe that these are the critical elements that will strengthen the communities of Vancouver Island and coastal British Columbia well into the future.

Graduates, once again, I am proud to offer each of you my heartfelt congratulations.

Sincerely,

Chief Shawn A-in-chut Atleo
Chancellor and Hereditary Chief for Ahousaht
Message from the President

Congratulations Vancouver Island University (VIU) graduates, class of 2014.

Today represents a significant milestone in your lives, one I am sure you will remember for a lifetime. This is a day of celebration. We are immensely proud of your accomplishment and I want to personally thank you for choosing VIU to pursue your post-secondary education.

At VIU, our goal was to challenge you with new ideas and fresh perspectives and help you discover new ways of thinking and knowing as you have engaged with faculty, fellow students and other members of the University community.

During your time at VIU, we hope you have taken full advantage of opportunities to interact with others who have caused you to reassess your own views. Your exposure to many modes of instruction and the variety of relationships you have developed will serve you well as you continue to grow, learn and contribute to your communities and to the world. I encourage each of you to cherish the relationships you have developed and build on the networks you have established.

Today, as you graduate, you become VIU alumni. You will forever be a part of the Vancouver Island University family, a dynamic group of more than 40,000 alumni around the world. I sincerely hope you will stay connected to VIU and to your peers through our Alumni Association and that you will find ways to give back. Our global network of alumni will continue to support, encourage and inspire you throughout your life.

I would like to thank families and friends of our VIU graduates. Your support and commitment have helped ensure our students’ success in achieving their educational goals.

Finally, graduates, I want you to remember that your newly minted degree, diploma or certificate is a stepping stone to new, exciting possibilities. All of us at VIU – faculty, staff and current students – look forward to watching you grow, develop, engage in your communities, invest in your careers and explore the many adventures in life that await you as VIU alumni.

Embrace these opportunities and know that we are cheering you on. On behalf of the Board of Governors, the Senate, faculty and staff and all our community partners, congratulations. You have made us proud.

Sincerely,

Dr. Ralph Nilson

Honorary Degrees and Awards

Honorary Degrees

The awarding of honorary doctorates is intended to encourage a standard of excellence and innovation which is exemplary to students, faculty and staff and to society in general. Vancouver Island University awards honorary doctorates to publicly acknowledge members of society who exhibit a record of outstanding distinction and achievement in an area related to Vancouver Island University’s mission, such as, but not limited to, scholarship, research, teaching, the creative arts, business and industry, international affairs or public service. Individuals are nominated by members of the community or by VIU employees.

Honorary Doctor of Laws is awarded for accomplishments and contributions in areas such as politics, justice and social activism.

Honorary Doctor of Letters is awarded for scholarly accomplishments and contributions in areas such as social science, theory and literature.

Honorary Doctor of Science is awarded for accomplishments and contributions in science.

Honorary Doctor of Technology is awarded for accomplishments and contributions in applied areas related to science and technology.

2014 Honorary Doctor of Letters – Raffi Cavoukian, OC

Raffi Cavoukian is a singer, writer, producer, author, lecturer and tireless advocate for children. Best known for his work as a children’s entertainer, his string of gold- and platinum-selling recordings in North America includes his classic song, “Baby Beluga”.

Once called “the most popular children’s singer in the English-speaking world” (Washington Post) and “Canada’s all time children’s champion” (Toronto Star), Raffi is also a recipient of the Order of Canada and the United Nations’ Earth Achievement Award, among others. His commitment to honouring his young fans has changed society’s outlook on music made for children.

In 2010, Raffi founded The Centre for Child Honouring on Salt Spring Island, BC. With the motto “Respecting Earth & Child,” the Centre is at the heart of a global movement that views honouring children as the best way to create sustainable, peacemaking societies.

Recently, Raffi published a new book for adults, Lightweb Darkweb, about the critical need to reform social media, especially for young users. As well, he co-founded the Red Hood Project, a grassroots movement for consumer protection for children online.

This July, Raffi will release Love Bug, his first new album of original material in over a decade. A collection of 16 songs, this thoughtfully crafted body of work engages children in a broad range of fundamental topics including love, nature, playtime, chores and teamwork.

2014 Honorary Doctor of Letters – Wade Davis, PhD

A native of BC, Wade Davis is an esteemed Canadian anthropologist, ethnographer, author, photographer and filmmaker whose work has focused on worldwide indigenous cultures, especially in North and South America.

Davis is an Explorer-in-Residence at the National Geographic Society and named by them as one of the “Explorers for the Millennium.”

His work as an anthropologist and botanical explorer has taken him from the forests of the Amazon to the mountains of Tibet, from the high Arctic to the deserts of Africa. His research has been the subject of more than 900 media reports and interviews, worldwide.

Davis has also worked as a park ranger, forestry engineer, logger, licenced river guide, big game hunting guide and conducted ethnographic fieldwork among several indigenous societies of northern Canada.

He is the author of 17 bestselling books, including The Serpent and the Rainbow which appeared in 10 languages and was later released as a movie.
Honorary Degrees and Awards

Davis is also a producer and writer of documentary films, and a photographer and curator of several major exhibits.

A professional speaker for 25 years, Davis has spoken at more than 200 universities and captivated corporate clients around the world. His talks have been broadcast to millions of viewers. In 2009, he delivered the Massey Lectures, Canada’s most prestigious public intellectual forum.

Davis obtained a PhD in Ethnobotany at Harvard University. He has received numerous awards, including the David Fairchild Medal for botanical exploration in 2012 and a Gold Medal from the Royal Canadian Geographical Society in 2009.

2014 Honorary Doctor of Letters – Takao Tanabe, OC, OBC

Over his long career, Takao Tanabe has gained acclaim as one of Canada’s most important painters. The son of a commercial fisherman, Tanabe was born in Prince Rupert in 1926 and summered in fishing camps on the Skeena River. He was interned as a Japanese alien during World War II. He studied at the Winnipeg School of Art from 1946-49 before going to New York, where he continued studies at the Brooklyn Museum Art School. After a summer at the Banff School of Fine Arts in 1953, Tanabe went to the Central School of Arts and Crafts in London, England and then to Tokyo University in Japan.

Since 1949, Tanabe has exhibited widely, both nationally and internationally, and is represented in the National Gallery of Canada, the Vancouver Art Gallery and many other public and private collections. For his enormous contribution to the arts, Tanabe has been honoured with the Order of British Columbia, the Order of Canada and the Governor General’s Award, among many others.

Tanabe moved to Vancouver Island in 1980 where he continues to paint in his studio. His quiet, light-bathed landscapes reflect his interest in Zen Buddhism.

Following a decade as head of the art program and artist-in-residence at the Banff Centre, he returned to British Columbia in 1980, moving to Parksville where he still maintains an active studio practice.

2014 Honorary Doctor of Letters – Shelagh Rogers, OC

Shelagh Rogers is a veteran broadcast-journalist. From working alongside Peter Gzowski on Morningside, to hosting numerous current affairs programs on CBC Radio, Roger’s voice and personality has captivated and entertained millions of Canadians for more than 30 years. Currently, she hosts The Next Chapter, the program devoted to Canadian writing.

When she’s not on the air, Rogers criss-crosses the country to fight the stigma connected to mental illness. She also works towards reconciliation between Aboriginal and non-Aboriginal people in Canada, proudly serving as an Honorary Witness for the Truth and Reconciliation Commission.

Honoured by the Native Counselling Services of Alberta for her work, she is also the co-editor of “Speaking My Truth: Reflections on Reconciliation and Residential School”. She is the recipient of four honorary doctorates and the 2014 Queen’s Alumni Humanitarian Award, and is the first ever Ambassador-at-Large for the Canadian Canoe Museum in Peterborough. Rogers was also named an Officer of the Order of Canada.

As Shelley Ambrose, co-publisher of The Walrus Magazine, says, “Think of her as Canada’s ear. Then add a brain, a heart…and a very recognizable voice. That’s Shelagh Rogers.”
2014 Honorary Doctor of Science
– Crawford S. (Buzz) Holling, PhD, OC

One of Canada’s best-known forest entomologists, Dr. Buzz Holling gained international recognition for his work in the management of natural resources.

Currently a Professor in Ecological Sciences at the University of Florida, Dr. Holling introduced important ideas in the application of ecology and evolution. His pioneering methods in adaptive ecosystem management paved the way for modern movements in sustainability and conservation.

His work is frequently cited in the fields of ecology, environmental management, ecological economics and the human dimensions of global change. His leadership in both academic research and social responsibility has literally transformed the world.

Dr. Holling obtained a Doctor of Philosophy in 1957 at the University of British Columbia (UBC) and a Doctor of Science at University of Guelph in 1998. His public prominence dates from his work at UBC, where he became a professor of zoology in 1967 and served as director of the Institute of Animal Resource Ecology from 1969 to 1973. He also served as director of the International Institute of Applied Systems Analysis in Vienna from 1981-1984.

Dr. Holling is a recipient of many awards, including the honours of Officer, Order of Canada, the Austrian Cross of Honour for Arts and Science, the Eminent Ecologist Award of the Ecological Society of America and the Kenneth Boulding Memorial Prize from the International Society for Ecological Economics.

Dr. Holling is a Fellow of the Royal Society of Canada and a foreign Fellow of the Royal Swedish Academy of Sciences.

Honorary Awards

VIU Alumni Association recognizes the outstanding accomplishments and achievements of VIU alumni by offering our Distinguished Alumni Awards. The honorary awards celebrate a standard of excellence and innovation which is exemplary to students, faculty and staff.

Early Achievement Award  The recipient will have demonstrated outstanding achievement within 10 years of receiving a credential from Vancouver Island University. Areas of achievement could include endeavours in their profession, research, community service, business, athletics or the arts.

Service to Society Award  The recipient exhibits integrity and a demonstrated commitment to service to society through an interest in bettering the lives of others through volunteer leadership, humanitarian endeavours and community and public service.

2014 Distinguished Alumni – Early Achievement Award
– Serene Kerpan

Serene Kerpan graduated with Distinction from Vancouver Island University in 2008 with a Bachelor of Arts majoring in physical education and history. While at VIU, Kerpan played basketball for the Mariners and was Team Captain in her junior and senior year. In the fall of 2008, she entered the Master’s in Kinesiology program at the University of Saskatchewan (U of S). After completing her Master’s, Kerpan took a position coordinating a culturally safe Aboriginal health curriculum for the College of Medicine at U of S. In 2012, she returned to graduate school for her doctorate in kinesiology. She is in her final year of this program at U of S.

Kerpan’s research is focused on promoting physical activity for Aboriginal youth. She has researched with both urban and on-reserve Aboriginal communities. Her participatory action research engages communities in the research process and helps examine problems that are relevant to the people she works with. Her current doctoral work examines how physical activity enhances learning abilities for Aboriginal children. Throughout her Master’s and PhD, Kerpan has been awarded national funding from the Canadian Institutes of Health Research.
Honorary Degrees and Awards

In addition to Kerpan’s achievements in research, she has proven herself an exemplary educator and a dedicated community member. Since 2009, she has taught 10 university courses in Kinesiology and Education. Her natural talent for teaching was noticed by faculty and students and in 2010 she was awarded the University of Saskatchewan Provost’s Award for Outstanding Graduate Student Teacher. Since 2008, Serene has coached an inner city urban Aboriginal girls basketball team. Each year she helps acquire funding for the team through local and national sport grants. This funding ensures that all costs associated with playing organized sports are covered for the young women on the team.

Serene is passionate about physical activity, education and working with young people. Through research, teaching and volunteerism she seeks to make a difference in her community.

2014 Distinguished Alumni – Service to Society Award
– Malerie Meeker, MA

Throughout her teaching and service career and in numerous volunteer positions, Malerie Meeker has followed her passion for social justice. After a 29-year career in Powell River’s disability service sector, Meeker began teaching in 2002 at VIU’s Powell River Campus in the Faculty of Health and Human Services, instructing students in the School and Community Support Worker program. In her role at VIU as program coordinator and instructor, she developed the first credit program unique to Powell River, the Diploma in Disability Studies. An early innovator, she used online and blended teaching methods and mentored and inspired best practices for faculty and students alike.

Prior to her VIU appointment, Meeker worked in the disability service sector as a school-based special education assistant, a preschool teacher providing inclusive programming and 18 years as executive director of Inclusion Powell River (formerly Powell River Association for Community Living). Early in her career, along with five other trailblazing young women, Meeker opened one of the first inclusive preschools in BC.

Throughout her teaching and service career, Meeker’s commitment to social justice led her to numerous volunteer positions with local, provincial and national advocacy organizations. She served on the Board of Directors of the BC Association of Community Response Networks, on the Board of Directors of Inclusion BC and on Canadian Association for Community Living national committees.

As both volunteer and private contractor, Meeker developed and facilitated training for government, advocacy and community living associations throughout Canada which include advocacy and social justice, child and family support, citizenship and disability support, labour/management and employment dynamics, provincial and national government relations and social policy, community development and leadership. Currently, her primary volunteer work is with Powell River’s Defining Diversity: Creating Community, which builds on the asset-based community development initiative she helped to implement in the late 1980s.

Meeker holds a Master of Arts in Leadership from Royal Roads University.

Academic Emeritus

The awarding of Academic Emeritus Designation is intended to recognize retired faculty members, university librarians and scholars for significant contributions, exceptional service and outstanding achievement in teaching or support of teaching, during their association with Vancouver Island University. This recognition gives the university the opportunity to keep highly productive members of the academic community engaged and contributing to the university and to academia.

2014 Academic Emeritus
Gary Tunnell, Faculty of Social Sciences
Teaching Excellence Awards

The awarding of Teaching Design and Practice Awards is intended to formally recognize the excellence in achievements in all facets of teaching and student learning at Vancouver Island University. The awards focus on teaching design and practice of learning experiences for students which refers to how a faculty member designs, develops and offers learning opportunities for students around discipline-specific learning outcomes.

2014 Teaching Design and Practice that Uses Technology to Enhance Student Learning
Alison Taplay, Faculty of Health and Human Services

2014 Teaching Design and Practice for Community-Based Learning in Regional Communities

Governor General Academic Medals

The Governor General’s Academic Medals have recognized the outstanding scholastic achievements in Canadian high schools, colleges, and universities. Medals are presented by the Provost on behalf of the Governor General, along with personalized certificates signed by the Governor General. They are the most prestigious award that students in Canadian schools can receive.

The Gold Medal is awarded to the graduate student who achieves the highest academic standing upon graduation from a master degree program.

The Silver Medal is awarded to the undergraduate student who achieves the highest academic standing upon graduation from a bachelor degree program.

The Collegiate Bronze Medal is awarded to the student who achieves the highest academic standing upon graduation from a post-secondary diploma program.

2014 Governor General Gold Medal
Wendy Ann Woollven, Master of Education in Educational Leadership

2014 Governor General Silver Medal
Alexandria Lauren Wilschut, Bachelor of Science

2014 Governor General Collegiate Bronze Medal
Michael David Lester, Diploma in Resource Management Officer Technology

Valedictorians

Kelly Krueger, Bachelor of Science in Nursing
Jason Nenzel, Bachelor of Arts
Dayna Paradise Johnson, Bachelor of Education
Clayton Cameron, Bachelor of Business Administration
Ariel U’Chong Muirhead, Bachelor of Science
VIU's convocation ceremony begins with a procession of the graduating students, faculty, and distinguished guests into the theatre, led by a bagpiper and the Valedictorian.

When the platform party has assembled onstage, a smaller procession, known as the Chancellor's Procession enters the theatre, accompanied by the drumming of VIU's Elders-in-Residence. The Chancellor's Procession consists of the Chancellor, President, Board Chair, Vice-Presidents, Registrar, and macebearer.

Paddle

The paddle that is carried in and out of the theatre by the President was given to the University by Chief Shawn A-in-chut Atleo when he was installed as Chancellor in 2008. This paddle, made by Brian Bob, Qwuyutsapulth of the Coast Salish/Ucluelet First Nation, is carved of yellow cedar and signifies teamwork, pulling together, like in a canoe. The salmon carved onto the blade represents journeys; salmon leave the place where they are hatched but return later in their lives, much in the same way that youth earn an education and then return home to bring their skills and knowledge back to their communities. During his installation celebrations, Chief Atleo presented a paddle to each of the four regional campuses with the wish that it be used at special occasions, like a graduation ceremony. The paddle given to the Nanaimo campus is a steering paddle, which helps guide us in our important journeys. It has since become an important symbol and tradition in our convocation ceremonies.

Mace

During the Middle Ages, a metal-clad wooden mace was an effective weapon in battle. As newer and more powerful arms were developed, its military significance diminished and it was transformed into a symbol of authority. Today, the ceremonial mace is used in many government assembly locations, such as the British and Canadian Houses of Parliament and is carried before ecclesiastical dignitaries and in university ceremonies such as this.

The mace used for VIU’s convocation was designed and created by retired art instructor John A. Charnetski in 1994. The metre-long mace is made of stainless steel and gold-plated cast bronze. It features four guardian eagles and enameled medallions bearing VIU’s coat of arms and arbutus emblems. At our convocation ceremonies, the mace is carried by a retiring member of academic faculty or administration to honour his or her contribution to VIU.

For a complete list of past macebearers, please visit viu.ca/convocation/macebearers.asp.

Convocation Regalia

Regalia

All students, faculty and staff participating in the convocation ceremony wear regalia as a symbol of their academic accomplishments. Diploma and certificate students wear a cap and gown, while students who have achieved a bachelor’s or master’s degree also wear a hood draped over their shoulders. Like most universities in North America, the regalia worn by Vancouver Island University's degree students is representative of their area of study. The gowns are largely similar, with the difference being in the sleeves: the bachelor's gown has closed sleeves and the master's gown has open sleeves. The hood colour indicates the graduate's program or area of study:

- Bachelor of Arts – red;
- Bachelor of Arts in Child and Youth Care – purple;
- Bachelor of Business Administration – regal gold;
- Bachelor of Education – burgundy;
- Bachelor of Hospitality Management – Persian turquoise;
- Bachelor of Interior Design – steel grey;
- Bachelor of Music In Jazz Studies – admiralty blue;
- Bachelor of Natural Resource Protection – moss green;
- Bachelor of Science – Aztec gold;
- Bachelor of Science in Nursing – teal;
- Bachelor of Tourism Management – royal blue;
- Master of Arts in Sustainable Leisure Management – crimson;
- Master of Business Administration – purple;
- Master of Education in Educational Leadership – burgundy;
- Master of Education in Special Education – royal blue.

The bachelor’s degree hood is edged in white and the master’s degree hood is lined in grey. The Master of Business Administration (MBA) degree hood is similar to the one used by the University of Hertfordshire in the United Kingdom, through which VIU originally offered its first MBA programs and continues to offer a dual MBA-MScIB program.

Thank you to the many donors who helped award over 1,400 scholarships valued at over $1,000,000 to support Vancouver Island University students and a very special congratulations to all graduates on behalf of the Vancouver Island University Foundation.

For more information about the Vancouver Island Foundation or the Scholarship, Awards and Bursary program please contact:

foundation@viu.ca | www.viu.ca/giving | William Litchfield at 250.740.6602

Congratulations Grads!

Visit the Bookstore table at convocation for parchment frames and VIU crested mementos.

We invite our graduates and guests to a reception following the graduation convocation ceremony.

The reception will be held at the Coast Bastion Hotel Ballroom 200 metres from the Port Theatre.
Graduates, stay connected

The Vancouver Island University Alumni Relations Office represents all those who have graduated from the Dominion-Provincial Youth Training Centre, 1936 – 1959; Vocational Training School in Nanaimo, 1959 – 1971; Malaspina College (all campuses), 1969 – 1989; Malaspina University-College (all campuses), 1989 – summer 2008; and now VIU and helps create opportunities for past graduates to reconnect with their old friends and faculty.

• Stay in touch with the Vancouver Island University Alumni Office.
• Share your news and achievements with other alumni, current students and your instructors.
• Re-establish old friendships and start new ones.
• Make connections with other people currently in your field.
• Get on-campus discounts with your alumni privilege card.
• Establish a legacy at Vancouver Island University by volunteering your time to help with programs and events.

Visit our website at viu.ca/alumni and update your profile or call 250.740.6215.
